John 3:30 He must become greater; I must become less.

Some people prefer to be short, quick and to the point. How much simpler than this can it get? God wants us to make him the center of our lives. He wants to be #1 in our heart, mind and soul. Sometimes we all need a verse that does not need a theologian to break down and explain what it means.

Think about this for a moment, where in your life do you need to apply this ? What is holding you back from allowing God to become greater in your life? Where can you declutter and remove yourself so God can fill that gap?
